Friday 14 th February	INSET Day - No Children in school

"Maths Look" Thank you to those who were able to join us on Monday morning. Having solved the puzzle up in the hall (What number is in alphabetical order when written? Answer: Forty) and having had time to look at the age related expectations in maths for each year group that were out for people to look at (document attached to this Parentmail) everyone was able to spend time in all or some classes to see how maths is taught. I know that those who were able to come were pleased to have that opportunity, to see the maths learning in action.

2 threads that came through as people chatted as they left were:

- The pace of the lessons - as someone said "No wonder my child is tired at the end of the school day"
- Surprised at the mathematical vocabulary used by the children e.g they talk of numerators and denominators when discussing parts of a fraction.

PTFA Disco The hall is ready - it just needs those "dancing shoes". The PTFA are looking forward to:

All those in YR-Y2 to enjoy their hour's fun from 5-6pm

All those in Y3-Y6 to enjoy their dancing from 6-7pm

The children will enter the hall from the green gate entrance.

Parents/carers of those in KS1 may stay to ensure their child is settled (sometimes the disco sound can appear loud to some youngsters) If staying, I must ask that no mobile phones are used inside with the children around for safeguarding purposes.
