

Apple Class letter Summer Term 2nd half

Dear Parents, I hope you had a good half term holiday.

This half terms topic is Splendid skies.

We will be studying and learning about the weather including extreme weather and climate change.

In literacy we will be learning rainy day and windy day poems such as ‘Have you seen the wind?’ by Christina Rossetti. The children will identify rhyme and construct their own sentences. We will also be writing accounts, reading some weather related stories and developing our writing skills and use of vocabulary.

We will look at weather related art by famous painters and study the work of Berndnaut Smilde and cloud installations.

Ms Morgan will be teaching science

In music we will listen to weather themed music and using simple instruments try and create our own.

In Numeracy we will be learning the time/ a little more work on money and place value to 100.

This half term’s spellings are

WEEK 1 cats, dogs, spends, rocks, thanks, catches
WEEK 2 hunting, hunted, hunter, buzzing, buzzed, buzzer
WEEK 3 grander, grandest, fresher, freshest, quicker, quickest

Homework Task

Can your child choose a country that is on the Equator and find out some facts about the country. They can write the fact in a sentence. If they could bring their fact sheet into school by Monday 5th July we will share them and find each country on the globe. They can bring in pictures too if they wish.
